Guidance Notes Data Sharing Checklist – systematic data sharing

Scenario: You want to enter into an agreement to share personal data on an ongoing basis is this form relevant and the sharing justified? Read the below:

Key points to consider:

What is the sharing meant to achieve?

Have you assessed the potential benefits and risks to individuals and/or society of sharing or not sharing?

- Is the sharing proportionate to the issue you are addressing?
- Could the objective be achieved without sharing personal data?

Do you have the power to share?

Key points to consider:

- The type of organisation you work for.
- Any relevant functions or powers of your organisation.
- The nature of the information you have been asked to share (for example was it given in confidence?).
- Any legal obligation to share information (for example a statutory requirement or a court order).

If you decide to share

It is good practice to have a data sharing agreement in place.

As well as considering the key points above, your data sharing agreement should cover the following issues:

- What information needs to be shared?
- The organisations that will be involved.
- What you need to tell people about the data sharing and how you will communicate that information.
- Measures to ensure adequate security is in place to protect the data.
- What arrangements need to be in place to provide individuals with access to their personal data if they request it?
- Agreed common retention periods for the data.
- Processes to ensure secure deletion takes place.
